

Anne Lloyd Williams

University of Mississippi
Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders
George Hall
University, MS 38677
(662) 915-7271 (Department office), (662) 915-7924 (Office)
E-mail: alwillia@olemiss.edu

Professional Licensure & Affiliations:

Certificate of Clinical Competence in Audiology (CCC-A)

Audiology/Hearing Aid license issued by Board of Examiners for Speech Pathology and Audiology
State of Mississippi

Professional Experience:

University of Mississippi, Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, University, MS
Clinical Audiologist/Instructor in Audiology 10/2007 – present

Perform audiologic testing on populations ranging in age from birth to geriatric, including mentally and physically challenged patients.

Perform electrophysiological testing, including auditory brainstem response and otoacoustic emissions testing.

Summarize and report on results of testing and confer with physicians and other professionals regarding findings and recommendations.

Perform hearing aid evaluation and orientation, including electroacoustic analysis of analog, programmable, and advanced digital products and associated accessories.

Locate funding sources to assist patients in obtaining hearing aids.

Troubleshoot and basic repair of patients' hearing aids.

Assess and fit children and adults with hearing/ear protection including swim and musicians' molds.

Perform school and industrial screenings.

Obtain case histories from patients.

Consult on pricing for hearing aids and other audiologic accessories.

Consult and make recommendations on audiologic equipment purchases.

University of Mississippi (continued)

Instructor for CSD 495: Introduction to Clinical Science – Audiology section 2008-2012

Instructor for CSD 205: Anatomy and Physiology - Spring semester 2012

Instructor for CSD 351: Basic Audiology – 2009-2012

Instructor for CSD 430: Practices in Audiology – Spring 2014 to present

Lecture for CSD 205: Anatomy and Physiology – Hearing and balance systems
Spring 2008/Summer 2009

Lecture for CSD 201: Introduction to Communication Sciences and Disorders – Audiology lectures 2009-2014

Lecture for CSD 499: SLP Associate Course – Audiology lecture Fall 2015

Advise students on course selection.

Ear, Nose, and Throat Consultants of North Mississippi, Oxford, MS

Clinical Audiologist 7/2000 – 10/2007

Perform audiologic testing on populations ranging in age from pediatric to geriatric, including mentally and physically challenged patients.

Perform/schedule electrophysiological testing, including electronystagmography and electrocochleography.

Summarize results of testing and confer with physicians and other professionals regarding findings and recommendations.

Perform/schedule hearing aid evaluation and orientation, including electroacoustic analysis of analog, programmable, and advanced digital products.

Troubleshoot and basic repair of patients' hearing aids.

Locate funding sources to assist patients in obtaining hearing aids.

Assess and fit hearing/ear protection including swim molds and hearing protection devices.

Obtain case history information from patients.

Coordinate roles for audiology staff, including scheduling and job responsibilities.

Set pricing for hearing aids and other audiologic accessories.

Consult and make recommendations on audiologic equipment purchases.

Education:

University of Florida, Doctor of Audiology (2004)

Included coursework in:

- Balance disorders and testing
- Hearing aids
- Counseling
- Electrophysiological testing
- Cochlear implants and assistive devices
- Business and ethics
- Medical audiology

University of Mississippi, Master of Science in Audiology (2000)

Included coursework in:

- Diagnostic audiology
- Hearing science
- Educational audiology
- Counseling
- Hearing aids
- Electrophysiology

University of New Orleans, Bachelor of Arts in Drama/Communication (1981)